FOREWORD

The compiling of this family genealogy was inspired by the interest shown at the Annual Reunions of our branch of the Payne family by members of the various families who wished to know more of their ancestors. We have taken from "Paine Family Records," compiled by Horace M. Paine, M. D., and published by H. D. Paine, M. D., 1878-1879, the information which carries our line down to James Paine or Payne, who was our first ancestor on Long Island. Family Bibles, Church Records, and old cemeteries were searched for further data. Dates and names are as nearly correct as was possible to obtain from these various sources.

With some dates missing and possible errors, we still trust this will serve to preserve to some future time the records herein and encourage others to continue the family lineage. We are indebted to Jonas B. Payne, of Smithtown, N. Y., now 87 years of age, for much assistance in finding and arranging the data used.

MEMORANDA

Representatives of the Payne family, under one or other of its orthographic varieties: Payne, Paine, Payn, etc., are to be found in every State and territory of the Union, though the name is far from being common in any part of the country. It appears to be most frequent in New England and in the regions colonized by emigration from the Eastern States. Of those states Rhode Island and Massachusetts include a larger proportion numerically, of our congeners than any others.

The family surname is variously spelled. In this country the principal variations of Payne, Paine and Payn, of which Paine appears to predominate in the north, while Payne is generally affected at the south, as in England, from which our race as well as our patronymie is immediately derived. Tastes differ, however, as it is often seen that different members of a family change one form for another according to their fancy, or from an impression of its greater correctness. For this reason different modes of spelling the name do not necessarily indicate differences of lineage.

All these variations are easily traceable to the same Latin original, Paganus, which in its turn, is derived from Pagus, a village. The inhabitants of villages were called Pagani, and as, during the gradual process of converting the Roman Empire to Christianity, they in many cases retained their old religion long after the larger towns and cities had adopted the new faith, the designation acquired a new meaning, and Paganus became synonymous with a heathen, or unbeliever, although its original signification was merely that of a villager, or countryman. In France, especially in Normandy, where families of this name arose to honorable distinction, still other modifications of form are observed as Payen, or Paien.

In Italy, the name still flourishes as Pagani, Pagni, Paganini. From Normandy the name passed over to England where it underwent still further changes, corresponding with the present usage.

It appears that of the first founders of the race in New England, nearly all, of whom any authentic records have been obtained, came to these shores from the contiguous counties of Norfolk, Suffolk, Essex and Kent, in England; and it is probable that researches into the antecedent history of these venerated ancestors would show that some of them, at least, were near of kin.

MEMORANDA

A Brief Account of the Founders of the Paine Family of Rohoboth, Mass.

*Stephen Paine, from whom so many of the family in America trace their descent, was originally from Great Ellingham, near Hingham, Norfolk County, England. In 1638 Stephen Paine came in the ship "Diligent" of Ipswich, John Martin, Master, bringing his family, consisting of his wife Rose, three sons and four servants. He settled first at Hingham, Plymouth County, Mass., where he had land granted him, was made a freeman in 1639, and elected a Representative or Deputy in 1641. In 1641-2, he, with four others all called of Hingham, Mass., made application to the authorities of Plymouth Colony, for leave "to sit down at Seacunk" (Seekonk), which was granted and he removed there with his family in 1643-4.

The first grant in 1641, of the township, "eight miles square", was to "Mr. Alexander Winchester, Richard Wright, Mr. Henry Smith, Mr. Joseph Pecke, Mr. Stephen Paine and divers others, for the settling of a town, which is now bounded, etc. (See Bliss's History of Rehoboth).

Mr. Paine became prominent in the affairs of the new settlement, and his name often appears in the town records, as holding offices of honor and trust. He was a man of considerable wealth for that period, his estate in 1643 being valued at £535, there being but two others, in a list of fifty-eight proprietors, that were more.

*The name Payne or Payn appears among the residents of Norfolk County as early a date as 1343.

In 1644 he was elected one of the townsmen, so called, who acted as advisor for deciding controversies which might arise, made up the tax levies, and had the general management of town affairs; this office he held for several years.

In 1645 he was chosen a Deputy to the court of Plymouth, or as the original record quaintly expresses it, on "the 31st of Maie, 1645, at a meeting of the town upon public notice given, Stephen Payne and William Carpenter, were chosen to certify the town's minds". He continued to hold the office of Deputy till 1660, and was elected at various times afterwards previous to 1671. In a division of land made by lot in June 1645, Mr. Paine was the first named, in a list of fifty-eight persons entitled to draw, indicating perhaps, his prominence in the town.

Mr. Paine survived the eventful period of the war with King Philip, and died in the month of August, 1679. His wife died January 20, 1661.

The children of Stephen Paine of Rehoboth, that lived to the age of manhood, were Stephen, born in England, in 1629, and Nathaniel, also born in England, year of birth not known.

Stephen Paine, Jr., who is our direct ancestor, was born in Norfolk County, England, in 1629, and came to New England with his father when about nine years of age. Going first to Hingham, Mass., he removed to Rehoboth in 1643-4 where he became a prominent citizen and landowner. He took the oath of fidelity in 1657. He was by occupation a tanner, was actively interested in town affairs and held several minor offices. Mr. Paine and his father were both among the early land owners of Swansey, Mass., and one or both of them may have resided there for a few years. The records of Swansey show that "at a meeting of the Selectmen on the 9th of ye 11th month, 1671," "Mr. Stephen Pain, Sr., is granted a plot of ground to sett an house upon within this town, adjoining to the land of Stephen Pain, Jr., on the east side of New Meadow River."

Stephen Paine, Jr., was an active participant in the war with King Philip, in 1675, contributing money to carry it on (£10.11.5) as well as his personal services in the ranks under Major William Bradford.

Stephen Paine (2) died at Rehoboth in January 1677-8 leaving a wife, Anne who later married Thomas Medselfe (Metcalf) of Rehoboth.

The children of Stephen and Anne Chickering Paine were:

Stephen, Rebecca, John Mary, Samuel, Elizabeth, Sarah, Nathaniel, Benjamin.

Samuel (3rd generation) was born at Rehoboth May 12, 1662. Married first Anne Peck of Rehoboth December 16, 1685; and second, Mrs. Abigail Frissell of Woodstock, Conn., January 18, 1708. He removed from Rehoboth and settled in Woodstock, about the year 1703 or 4, purchasing land of John Butcher, town surveyor, and one of the original settlers of Woodstock. Mr. Paine became an active and influential citizen, holding at different times various town offices. In 1695 he purchased a tract of two hundred acres in the new settlement at Pomfret, Conn. He died at Woodstock, May 11, 1735.

His children by his first wife, Ann Peck, were all born in Rehoboth, Mass., as follows:

Samuel (4th generation) born 1686, Sept. 13.; Anne, born Sept. 15, 1688; Seth, born August 20, 1690; Sarah, born Dec. 11, 1692; Judith, born Feb. 18, 1695; Noah, born May 28, 1696; Stephen, born June 21, 1699; Daniel, born Feb. 22, 1702-3.

Samuel Paine removed to Pomfret, Conn., in 1705-6. In 1709 he purchased land of Benjamin Griggs in Pomfret, then called Mashamoquet, and in the same year married Ruth Perrin, daughter of Abraham and Sarah Perrin, who was born 1688, March 30th, probably in Rehoboth. His wife and himself were admitted to the church in Pomfret in September 1719. He was one of 23 petitioners to the General Court, or Assembly, in 1713, May 30th, for a town organization. In 1715, he was one of the earliest signers to support preaching. In 1723, with others, he protested at town meeting, against leaving the school house unfinished. In 1724, Benjamin Sabin and Samuel Paine were chosen town surveyors. His wife died 1725, June 5th, aged 37 years. Samuel died February 15, 1732-33, aged 47 years.

Samuel and Ruth had six children, viz:
Elizabeth—born August 9, 1710
Samuel—born March 31, 1711-12
Sarah—born February 16, 1714-15
Benjamin—born October 30, 1716
Ann—born February 11, 1719-20
Abraham—born 1722 - died 1740, Jan. 22, aged 18

Samuel, the second son (5th generation) next in our line, born March 31, 1711-12, married Lydia Smith in Pomfret, Conn., May 15, 1735.

Their children were:
Samuel—born February 4, 1736
Ruth—born July 23, 1737
James—born July 2, 1739
Elizabeth—born December 26, 1741
Abraham—born June 23, 1743
Lydia—born March 11, 1745
Smith—born Jan. 7, 1747

The above appears on page 107 of Paine Family Records, Pamphlet No. 5, published November 1879.

JAMES PAYNE

* * * *

James Payne, the third child of Samuel and Lydia Payne (6th generation) born July 2, 1739, Pomfret, Conn., first went to Danbury, Conn., and then to Hauppauge, L. I., where he married Elizabeth Wheeler, daughter of Thomas and Phebe Wheeler, who was born July 15, 1741, and died October 9, 1781.

Their chlidren were:

*Thomas—born Sept. 12, 1768 - died Oct. 4, 1822
Jonas—born March 23, 1770 - died March 30, 1827
Henrietta, who married William Wheeler, died in 1822 aged 49 years.
Elizabeth married John Blydenburgh; Charlotte, born 1792, married Benjamin Gerard, Jr., died Nov. 13, 1852.

*The brother and sisters of Thomas we do not, at this time, try to complete, as there is so little available information.

James Payne was listed among the heads of families in the Town of Smithtown, L. I., June 25, 1776.

The Freeholders of Orange County adopted at Goshen, N. Y., April 9, 1775, Articles of Association to be signed by all Patriots, which were afterwards adopted by the Congress assembled at New York (May 25, 1775) and sent to various towns to be signed. The names of the signers in Smithtown are published in Vol. I, Revolutionary Doc., Pages 85-86. They were called Associators and those who refused to sign Recusants. James Payne signed these Articles. The descendants of the signers of these Articles, or Associators, are by that signature entitled to the privilege of becoming a member of the D.A.R. Refer to Records of the Town of Smithtown by J. Lawrence Smith, page 19, published in the History of Suffolk County, 1683-1882.

James Payne contributed to the Hauppauge, L. I. M. E. Church the year it was organized, 1806, and again as late as 1816.

MEMORANDA

THE OLD THOMAS WHEELER HOUSE

Long a landmark at Hauppauge, L. I.

THE WHEELERS

About the year 1640 Thomas Wheeler 2nd, of New Haven, Conn., died and shortly after that his widow Alice, with her children John, Mary and Sarah, came to Southampton, L. I., where she, (the widow) became the second wife of Josiah Stansborogh, a prominent citizen of that place.

One of her daughters married Josiah Horton, of Southold, and the other married Francis Sayre, of Southampton. Her son John moved to East Hampton and became one of the leading men of that place. His wife was Sarah Talmadge. He was Captain of the Militia, Justice of the Peace, one of the Patentees and Trustees named in the Dongen Patent to the Town of East Hampton in 1686. He was Collector and Assessor and from 1704 to 1718 was Supervisor of the Town. He died in 1718, about 80 years of age.

Among his children were Thomas and John. In 1724 Thomas sold his house in East Hampton and went to Smithtown. His wife was Anne, daughter of John and Mary (Stansborough) Edwards. Among his children Thomas, born (June 10) 1710; Timothy, born 1713, and Jerimiah, born 1723. Thomas and Timothy settled in the Islip part of Hauppauge. Thomas built his house about opposite the Methodist Church in Hauppauge, L. I., where it stood until destroyed by fire on May 25, 1931. Timothy about a mile west on the Kings Highway, later known as Old Country Road.

These residences gave to the locality the name of Wheelers, by which name it was known in early records. The Wheeler places were landmarks for many of the highways and boundaries in that part of the town.

Thomas Wheeler died April 15, 1783. His wife, Phoebe Saxon, died March 8, 1801. Their children were :

Daniel—born January 3, 1740 - died March 31, 1817
Elizabeth—born July 15, 1741 - died October 9, 1781
Jonas—born April 4, 1743 - died September 5, 1801
Sibil—born September 10, 1744
Phoebe—born April 25, 1746 - died May 15, 1870
Sarah—born April 25, 1748
Thomas—born January 12, 1752
Thomas—born April 7, 1753
Tabitha—born March 8, 1756
Samuel—born January 3, 1762

Elizabeth married James Payne (6th generation) and was the mother of Thomas Payne who married Charity Smith, daughter of James Smith and Catherine Blydenburgh.

Note—The record of Thomas Wheeler as a signer of the articles of association is found on page 630 of "Refugees From Long Island To Connecticut" by Mather.

MEMORANDA

The following was taken from Town Records of Township of Smithtown, Long Island, by Pelletreau:

THE BLYDENBURGHS

"Augustine Blydenburgh was a Hollander who, in 1676 with his wife Silvestia, lived in the present Stone Street, New York City, where he owned two houses. He died in 1686 leaving a last will which is now on file in the New York Surrogate's Office. He had the following children: Joseph, William, Benjamin, Samuel and Mary who married Harmon King of Flushing. The Will speaks of William as then (August 22, 1685) at sea and provision is made in case he should not return. Presumably he did not return as his mother's will in December 1688 makes no mention of him. There is no further trace of Samuel. Benjamin went to England in 1695, returned to New York and went to South Carolina about 1704. He was a cordwainer by trade. Joseph was admitted a Freeman of the City in 1691 together with his brother, Benjamin. In the same year he was elected Constable of the Dock Ward. In 1693 he bought of Thomas Lloyd, of Philadelphia, the property seemingly upon which Trinity Church now stands. In 1696 he fitted out some ten or a dozen mariners for the expedition on the ship "Adventure Galley." Capt. William Kidd, Commander, taking their bonds in payment, conditioned on the result of the voyage. In 1697 he gave twelve shillings toward glazing Trinity Church. He went to Smithtown, L. I., about the year 1700 having previously married, Deborah, daughter of Jonathan Smith, eldest son of Richard Smith, the Patentee, and on May 1st of that year, bought a house and thirty acres of land from Obadiah Seward, of Brookhaven, in which Joseph Blydenburgh is described as of the said town merchant. From Joseph descended the Long Island family of that name. His wife, Deborah, died and he married again one "Collosia" and had a son, Joseph, who married Charity Saxton, of Stony Brook. They had the following children:"

Joseph—born 1732 - died 1833. Married Nancy Smith.
Daniel—killed in the French War.
William married Joanna Longbotham.
James Dennison married Alma Davis.
Mary married Bennet Dayton.
Nancy married Caleb Newton.
*Catherine married James Smith.
Ruth married Jonas Wheeler.
Temperance married Jacob Wheeler.
Charity died when young.
*Mother of Charity, wife of Thomas Payne.

Joseph Blydenburgh, who married Nancy Smith, lived to be 101 years old, wanting 3 days, as is inscribed on his tombstone where he lies close by the Church at Hauppauge. He had a son, Daniel, who was the father of Wessels Blydenburgh, who married Elizabeth, the daughter of Thomas and Charity Payne.

Note—As to the marriage of the first Joseph Blydenburgh, the following was found:

Among the New York marriage licenses granted by Lord Cornbury while Governor of the Province, published for the first time in New York Genealogical and Biographical records, published 1873, Volume IV, page 32, is the following:

July 8, 1692—Joseph Blydenburgh, of the City of New York, gent., and Mary Smith, of Seatalcot in the County of Suffolke, and in Volume III of the same publication:

May 19, 1699—Joseph Blydenburgh, Catherine Dehart. Mary and Deborah would seem to be one and the same person, as the town records mentions her as Deborah in a will of Jonathan Smith. The Catherine Dehart explains the name "Collosia."

MEMORANDA

THERE ARE MANY INQUIRIES AS TO COATS OF ARMS OF THE PAYNE FAMILY—J. Bertrand Payne, in his "Armorial of Jersey" says, among others that Arms were given to even Pagan Gods. To the heroes of classic antiquity, to Scythians and Teutons of eminence, to our Saxon forefathers and in time to every name of note down to the period when Heraldry really did begin. As an instance of the distinction and position enjoyed by the Payne family in Great Britain it may be noted Berry in his "Encyclopedia Heraldica" records no less than forty three Coats of Arms borne by the various branches. Stephen Payne was one of the Clerks or Chaplains of Henry V in the beginning of his reign. For these appointments of deputies official seal was required. He was legatee under the will of Henry the V and died Aug. 17, 1419. In the oldest records of the Kings tenants in Jersey the extante of 1331, several entries occur of members of the Payne family, thus proving it to be one of consequence and wealth. Further search might determine if the Paynes of Co. Norfolk have any connection with the above.

The Coat of Arms which seems to have been used by this branch of the Paynes in Norfolk Co., England is given below and can be obtained from the National Americana Society, 265 14th Street, at 8th avenue, New York City.

Payne (Ittringham, Co. Norfolk) Argent, a chevron, vaire, between three lions rampant azure.

Crest—An Ostrich's head erased or, between two wings expanded sable in the beak a horseshoe of the last.
